

ABSTRACT FORM, EVO MEETING

Dublin, Ireland, 13 - 16, May 2010

ABSTRACT

Here is the short and descriptive title written with upper case.

AB Author¹, CD Author¹ & E Ophthalmologist².

Department of This and That, University of Nowhere, Norway¹; School of Something, University of Somewhere, Sweden².

Purpose: State the aim of the study or the question the study was intended to answer, e.g. why you decided to perform a survey of an ocular disease in a breed.

Methods: Describe the experimental design and assay methods or methods of examination employed in the study. Include, as appropriate, a description of control and treatment groups or number and signalment of cases. Comprise, as appropriate, sample preparation, assay protocols and statistical methods.

Results: Report the data resulting from the study, e.g. clinical and histopathological findings in a group of patients.

Conclusions: Interpret the results and indicate their significance.

Support: List financial sponsors and scientific contributors that have been of major importance for the accomplishment of the study. This heading can be left out, if not applicable.

Instructions for authors:

On-line submission only:

Authors have to submit their abstract online (www.esvo.org). The abstract must not exceed 2500 characters.

Submit the abstract (in word format) not later than February 28, 2010 (12PM ECT) to:

Dr. Serge G. Rosolen - Centre de Recherche - Institut de la Vision - INSERM UMRS-968 17 rue moreau 75012 Paris - France
E-mail: sg.rosolen@orange.fr